JOHN HENRY'S ATTORNEYS LAY GROUND WORK OF TESTIMONY IN EFFORT TO FREE HIM FROM CHARGE

a wheat drill together. He testified that the family relations were of the most cordial character and there was nothing between him and Chas. Ezard and between the families which would in any way tend to make them unfriendly. His final answer in his direct examination as to whether or not anything had occurred prior to January 27 to in any way interfere with the friendly dealings that he and the members of his family had toward Charles Ezard and the members of his family. The answer was that absolutely nothing had occurred to mar their friendly relationship.

The examination of the witness by Mr. Haigrove was finished at 10:25 o'clock. The examination consuming just about an hour and twenty minutes. The witness manifested no nervousness and was very slow and deliberate in making his answers. His voice was pitched so low that it was necessary for the court to remind him to raise his voice so that council and jurors could all hear.

Cross Examination Began.
Judge M. T. Layman conducted the cross examination of the witness on behalf of the state. Judge Layman was characteristically calm and deliberate in his form of questioning and the witness was not hurried or badgered in any way. In the beginning the witness was taken over the ground as to his family relationship and was asked to give the name of his brother living near Woodson and the one in St. Louis. He was further asked how long his brother has been in business and who constituted the Henry commission company. He was also asked if he has ever been to his father's farm in Dekato and if he had any interest in that farm. Judge Layman said I remember that you said that on the evening of January 27 last that your daughter came in the sitting room where you were resting in a chair and asked you to come out to supper. You stated that the children made so much noise that you got up and closed the door and that the next recollection you had was when you awakened in St. Louis. The witness said that he was not certain whether he closed the door leading to the kitchen where the children were washing the dishes but he got up with the purpose to close the door. In answer to the question propounded by Judge Layman as to whether he could locate the boarding house in St. Louis where he had said he found himself, Henry replied that he did not know the names of the streets in St. Louis but that he believed he could find the house again. Some other questions were as follows:

Judge Layman. How long were you in the cot in this boarding house.
A. I do not know the street but if I were there I think I could locate it.
Q. You say that when you telephoned your brother in East St. Louis that he was not at the office. Did you try to telephone to him more than once?
A. I think I tried twice to call him but I am not certain.
Questions were then asked as to the avowed trip from St. Louis to Venice. The witness said after trying to take a street car over to Venice and that he arrived there about noon. He said he went on a street car which he boarded at the office of the McKinley Co. He said that he did not know how far this office was from the rooming house but that he believed it was six or seven blocks. He said that he stayed around the railroad yard until the train leaving St. Louis about five o'clock came on and that he then boarded the blind baggage and rode there until he reached Godfrey, or where the engine took on water.
Q. Have you told all that transpired in St. Louis up to the time you left for Venice. Do you not remember buying some clothes?
A. Yes I purchased a pair of pants, some gloves, a shirt and a Stetson hat. I do not remember whether the purchases were all made in one place or not. The clothes were of common variety and the hat was of the Stetson make. The clothes I put on over the ones I was wearing. Judge Layman then referred to the visit of the witness to Jacksonville on the afternoon of January 27.

John Henry. I do not remember or know how long I was in this cot. Judge Layman. You say that you read a paper down stairs; was this a copy of this St. Louis Globe Democrat?
John Henry. I do not know what paper it was, but I know that it was dated Friday.

Judge Layman. Do you think that you paid the rent for your bed when the man came to collect it.
John Henry. I can't say as to that; I went to sleep again and remained so until the woman came in to make the cots.

Q. How long was it between the calls made by the man and the woman?
A. I do not know how much time elapsed and I do not know what time of day it was.

Q. Did you dress yourself before you went down stairs?
A. I was already dressed except my boots and coat and I put these on before I went down stairs.

Q. What were the first things you did down stairs?
Read of Crime in Paper.

A. I picked up a paper and read about the occurrence.

Q. Was that the first knowledge you had of the killing of Chas. Ezard.
A. Yes, that was the first knowledge that I had.

Q. Was the paper you read issued the next day after the killing of Ezard.
A. No, because for the paper I read was dated Friday.

Q. Was not Charles Ezard killed on Tuesday night.
A. The paper I read it in was dated Friday and the article was headed the Woodson Tragedy.

I do not know just how much space the article occupied in the paper. The article referred to a John Henry and I did not know whether it referred to me or not. The headlines in the paper were in large type.

Q. After leaving the boarding house did you get a lunch?
A. Yes, after leaving the house I got something to eat at a lunch counter, but just how far it was from the boarding house I do not know. I was not familiar with the street in St. Louis.

Q. When did it first come to your knowledge that you were in St. Louis.
A. I do not know.

Q. What first called your attention as to where you were.
A. I think I asked someone and I may have done so in the lunch room. I did not notice any street or business signs which would indicate that the place was St. Louis. I do not know whether I asked about the place before or after lunch but I think it was afterward. I do not know what time it was.

Q. When was it that you attempted to telephone to your brother in East St. Louis.
A. I am not sure but I think that this was after I had eaten the lunch.

Could Locate Lunch Room.
Q. Could you locate this lunch room.
A. I do not know the street but if I were there I think I could locate it.

Q. You say that when you telephoned your brother in East St. Louis that he was not at the office. Did you try to telephone to him more than once?
A. I think I tried twice to call him but I am not certain.

Questions were then asked as to the avowed trip from St. Louis to Venice. The witness said after trying to take a street car over to Venice and that he arrived there about noon. The clothes were of common variety and the hat was of the Stetson make. The clothes I put on over the ones I was wearing. Judge Layman then referred to the visit of the witness to Jacksonville on the afternoon of January 27.

Q. Do you remember visiting the office of Dr. Willerton?
A. Yes, I went to that office and paid a small bill there.

Q. You say that you then went to the store of Andre and Andre made purchases amounting to $21 or $22 and that you received change after tendering a check for $70 in payment.
A. Yes, I remember making these purchases and that I received about $40 in the transaction. I do not remember making another purchase that afternoon.

Q. What did you do with the rest of the money?
A. I carried it with me and had it with me in St. Louis.

Q. Do you know what became of this money?
A. When I returned home my brother Jesse who was at the house searched me and removed the pocketbook from my inside pocket and handed it over to my wife. There was something like $40 in the purse at the time.

Did Not Want to Be Captured.
Q. Why then since you had plenty of money with you at this time did you not ride in a coach instead of on the blind baggage the night being cold and stormy?
A. I had read in the paper that John Henry had committed certain acts and I wanted to come home and see my wife, if I found from the facts that I was wanted, to give myself up.

Q. Could you not have given yourself up just as well in St. Louis?
A. Yes, but I did not want to be captured because I had enough principle about me to want to surrender myself to the officers if I found out that I was really the man for whom search was being made by the officers.

Q. Did you make any efforts to telegraph from St. Louis to your family?
A. No, I did not make any efforts of this kind.

Q. Why did you not take the train in St. Louis instead of riding on the street car to Venice and there climbing on the train?
A. Because I did not want to be captured in St. Louis if anybody was looking for me and I thought that someone there might recognize me.

Q. Did you make any other effort than you have told about in East St. Louis?
A. I think I wrote a letter to my brother.

Q. When did you write this letter? Before you left the boarding house?
May Have Written Letter.

A. I am not sure when I wrote this letter and whether or not I wrote it at all. If I did write the letter I am not sure as to whether or not I mailed it, but I don't think I mailed a letter.

Q. Do you remember going to your home on the evening of Jan. 27, last, and after kissing your children telling them to be good, that you were going away to be gone for a long time?
A. I do not have any such recollection.

Q. After returning home to your home near Woodson the Friday after Jan. 27, did you not say in the presence of Richard Meggison that you remembered saying goodbye to your children?
A. I do not remember any such statement.

Q. On that night did not any one of those present ask you what you had done with the gun?
A. I do not remember any such question.

Q. Did not anybody at your house on that evening ask you if you had left your gun near the railroad switch at Murrayville?
A. I do not think anybody asked this question.

Then the witness was again asked some questions relative to the number of his brothers and the number of his aunts and uncles and other facts related to the various members of the Henry family. He was also asked again as to the manner in which he carried the clothes some particulars as to the conditions of his return from St. Louis. He again related also some facts relative to the farm of 240 acres which he has been operating for the last 12 years and further facts as to the 400 acres which he and his brother rent from their father. The cross examination of the witness closed at 11 o'clock and he was excused from the stand.

Character Witnesses Testified.
The defense then called a number of character witnesses to testify with reference to the general reputation of the defendant as a peaceful and law abiding citizen. First witness was William G. Russell of Woodson who said he had known the defendant for 30 years and that his reputation as a peaceful and law abiding citizen was good. This witness and those succeeding were examined by Wilson and cross examined for the state by Marshall Miller. In the cross examination the attorneys were directed along the line indicating that the opinion expressed was in reality their own private opinion rather than an opinion based on general discussion or statements made by others. The second witness was William Colton, a Woodson merchant had known the defendant for 25 years. Clyde Smith, a farmer testified that he had known Henry from boyhood and his reputation was good. Henry Mosely of Pisgah knew the defendant well but did not feel qualified to answer the question. Ball Fitzsimmons, long a resident of Woodson testified as to the qualities under consideration and George Cunningham, a banker of Woodson said that he had known the defendant intimately for 10 or 11 years and that his reputation in the matter referred to was excellent. Steve Anderson, who had known the defendant for 5 or 6 years testified along the same line as did John Loneragan who had known him for 30 years. Gordon McCalister testified to the matter based upon an acquaintanceship of 7 years and also testified that he had noted a change in the general appearance of the defendant during the past year and was thinner and manifested some nervousness. During the examination and cross examination of the character witnesses the court explicitly ruled that the question of reputation must be confined to the matter of a reputation as being a law abiding and peaceful citizen. The question of reputation of the defendant for truth and other qualities were occasionally brought in were not to be considered as having the proper place in the evidence. It was sought by the defense to show that the opinions as to the peaceful and law abiding reputation of the defendant were based upon general discussion.

The next witness for the defense came as a surprise to the prosecution.

Hotel Porter Gave Evidence.
John P. Brown, of St. Louis was called to the stand.

In response to questions asked him by the defense he stated:
"My name is John P. Brown. I live at 1227 Tenth street, St. Louis. I work at the Home Hotel as porter. Have been there the past three years. The hotel is located at 823 North Sixth street. It is a cheap lodging house, charging 10 to 25 cents for a day or night. I was there on January 28th, 1914. Was at the time writing in the office. I saw the defendant in this case there. He came in about 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning and asked for a bed.

A. Yes, but I did not want to be captured because I had enough principle about me to want to surrender myself to the officers if I found out that I was really the man for whom search was being made by the officers.

Ball Fitzsimmons, long a resident of Woodson testified as to the qualities under consideration and George Cunningham, a banker of Woodson said that he had known the defendant intimately for 10 or 11 years and that his reputation in the matter referred to was excellent. Steve Anderson, who had known the defendant for 5 or 6 years testified along the same line as did John Loneragan who had known him for 30 years. Gordon McCalister testified to the matter based upon an acquaintanceship of 7 years and also testified that he had noted a change in the general appearance of the defendant during the past year and was thinner and manifested some nervousness. During the examination and cross examination of the character witnesses the court explicitly ruled that the question of reputation must be confined to the matter of a reputation as being a law abiding and peaceful citizen. The question of reputation of the defendant for truth and other qualities were occasionally brought in were not to be considered as having the proper place in the evidence. It was sought by the defense to show that the opinions as to the peaceful and law abiding reputation of the defendant were based upon general discussion.

The next witness for the defense came as a surprise to the prosecution.

Hotel Porter Gave Evidence.
John P. Brown, of St. Louis was called to the stand.

In response to questions asked him by the defense he stated:
"My name is John P. Brown. I live at 1227 Tenth street, St. Louis. I work at the Home Hotel as porter. Have been there the past three years. The hotel is located at 823 North Sixth street. It is a cheap lodging house, charging 10 to 25 cents for a day or night. I was there on January 28th, 1914. Was at the time writing in the office. I saw the defendant in this case there. He came in about 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning and asked for a bed.

A. Yes, but I did not want to be captured because I had enough principle about me to want to surrender myself to the officers if I found out that I was really the man for whom search was being made by the officers.

JOHN BLAND IS BADLY BURNED IN FRANKLIN FIRE THURSDAY

Lamp Which He Carries Into Cellar of His Store Causes Explosion—Contents of Basement are Burned.

John Bland of the firm of Bland & Roberts at Franklin, was badly burned Thursday night about 7:40 when a lamp which he carried into the basement of his store caused an explosion of gas that had gathered there and set fire to the building. It is not known what caused the accumulation of gas.

It was with difficulty that Mr. Bland made his way out of the building, as it was only a short time until the entire basement was in flames. He was taken to the office of Dr. F. H. Metcalf where his wounds were dressed. The burns about his hands, face and arms were most painful and are considered serious.

The fire was confined to the basement of the store, but that entire section of the building was gutted. The first and second floors were not damaged. The building is owned by James Whalen of this city.

Why Burden a Friend?

The average individual is no more fitted to handle an estate than he is to conduct a law suit or cure a disease. You hire a lawyer to do the one and a doctor to do the other. Then why burden a friend, a business associate or a member of your family with the responsibility of being your executor and trustee? Few men are familiar with the duties of trusteeship or with the investment of trust funds.

Name this responsible trust company instead. It is organized for the purpose, equipped to meet every emergency, to transact any business which may arise in connection with trust service and it is permanent and unaffected by the hazards of human life.

Ruth Mary Badger.

Miss Ruth Badger, the valedictorian, had for her subject, "The Woman of Tomorrow." In part she said:

The Woman of Tomorrow.

The world has been so busy with the woman of today that it has not had time to think of the woman of tomorrow. It has been so busy with the woman of today that it has almost forgotten the woman of yesterday. Yet from the mists of the past years there are two women who shine as stars of hope through the clouds of superstition and misery, and in gentle but commanding voices say to the woman of today, "Press on and complete the work begun by us, for unless you do your daughter will never be the ideal woman."

With the woman of today a career is the natural thing. Even a four-year old girl talks of what she expects to be and do. See how many women have gone into the business world and have, beyond a doubt, succeeded. The woman of yesterday was educated to become a wife. This was the only idea in mind, for the thought of a woman supporting herself was inconceivable. Today we consider a woman who marries for support not much better than the man who does the same thing. A career is not only the natural thing, but a good thing, for the woman not longer compelled to self repression, but is allowed self-expression, and this is doing as much good for the world as it is for herself. Before this the woman has made all of the big sacrifices, but now the man must take a share of them. And with this career the woman has gained strength. With strength goes patience; with freedom, tranquility; and out of this new intelligence come the untried comprehension of life practices.

And, yet, many objections are raised to these careers. People say that the homes are lost, and the children scarcely know their mothers. Then the careers of some women are even dangerous to the country. Mrs. Pankhurst and her followers in England are so often sighted in this objection, but they are only the extremes, and are not any more true representative of the new women movement than Carrie Nation was of the prohibition cause.

The women of tomorrow will be what she is because man has forced it upon her. When he ceased to eat his meat raw, he compelled his wife also to eat her meat cooked. And then as he grew, he wanted a companion and so she grew whether she wished to or not. In these days she wants to grow for herself and here the man begins his complaint. He wants her to grow as he wishes her to. But woman has had her start and as the world refuses things that do not grow she is trying her best to make herself acceptable to the world. At this day and age she has done everything man has done. She has entered upon all fields of labor and has been fully successful as the man himself, just because progress demands that woman be regarded not as man's toy or inferior, but as his equal and companion in the largest and truest sense. Yesterday a career was unheard of, today every woman has one of some sort and the home is rather in the background. Tomorrow, when the woman stands on her equality with man, the home and a career will be linked in a bond never to be broken. The woman of tomorrow will be the ideal woman, for the greater her progress and the more knowledge she has, the more perfect the future generation will be.

Members of the Class of 1914. It is hard to realize that this is the last time we shall meet together as a class. Our four years of work and play in high school are over, and we are happy to think they have been completed so successfully. But we are sorrowful when we think that this is the parting of our ways. Some of us will go on to college, but for the most of us our education in school is finished. We appreciate what has been done for us during our school years, and we thank the teachers for their services, but their devotion is only one stone in the modern circle of civilization upon which is engraven service. There are many things to be done in the coming generation and we, my classmates, are the ones who will be called upon for the work. Girls of the class of 1914 you are to be the women of tomorrow. The task is yours, to make your sisters and yourselves free. Fight on, not to make yourselves window-smashing suffragettes but womanly women.

Men of the class of 1914, you will be the men of tomorrow. The women looked to you for help and encouragement. She will help make you a better man. Give the world your service and make the woman of tomorrow what God intended her to be, a perfect woman, nobly planned, born to war, to comfort and command.

Supt. W. A. Gore in presenting the diplomas said in brief: This is my last opportunity to appear before you in an official capacity and I speak to you as a teacher, a superintendent and as a friend. In thinking of you and your work I am reminded of the parable of the talents. Different amounts were committed to different men; two used theirs well and the third did nothing with his. The two were justly praised and the other censured. Your school days are over and you go out equipped for the work of life. I pray you use your talents wisely and well.

You will be missed from the school; in the athletic field and in the class room you will be missed by all those who remain. We feel toward you as parents to children and we regard your pranks as the lingering prints of childhood. May you lead lives of usefulness and good to your fellow men and give a splendid account of the talents committed to you.

As a superintendent I present you these diplomas. Our school is accredited and these diplomas will be accepted where ever you go. Class of 1914, 81 strong, you have solved the problem of high school education and I congratulate you.

The benediction by Rev. G. W. Flagg ended the exercises.

Since it is a necessity, most desirable, and will last a lifetime, —isn't it thoughtless not to get it NOW instead of later?

A "Standard" Modern Bathroom should be considered in exactly that way. You will not question that a sanitary bathroom is a necessity, so considered by all who have regard for cleanliness and refinement. The fixtures are guaranteed for a definite number of years and there is no reason for thinking that they will not last a great while longer; is it not then a matter of economy to get the equipment at once.

An estimate on such equipment, correctly installed with first class workmanship, will be given upon request.

HERE IS SUPER-STRENGTH

is designed by a man who believes in super-strength. He has learned this need through 27 years of car building.

In this 35-horsepower car, every driving part is made to meet the requirements of a 50-horsepower engine. And every test goes far beyond the usual requirements.

FOR INSTANCE

For years we have kept test chassis on the road. Relays of drivers have run them at high speed night and day. After 10,000 miles of this reckless driving we take the car apart and inspect it. Not only must the chassis stand that test, but every vital part must stay new. It must show but little evidence of wear. We could build this car for one-fourth less by just skimming the hidden parts. Under normal conditions it might for a time serve you as well as this. But it could not stay new. And it might cost you hundreds of extra dollars in troubles, repairs and upkeep.

DOES IT PAY?

It pays us to give you the utmost in a car. We have in this way held the lead in our class. The demand for such cars has grown and grown, faster than we could supply it. We are building for the future—for what men will say five years after buying the car.

It also pays owners to buy such a car, when they buy a car to keep.

GO AND SEE.

Go and see this car. See the handsome streamline body, the perfect equipment, electric lights, and starter, deep upholstery, perfect finish.

Then go below all that. Get the details of this costly chassis. Find out why each car is six weeks in the building.

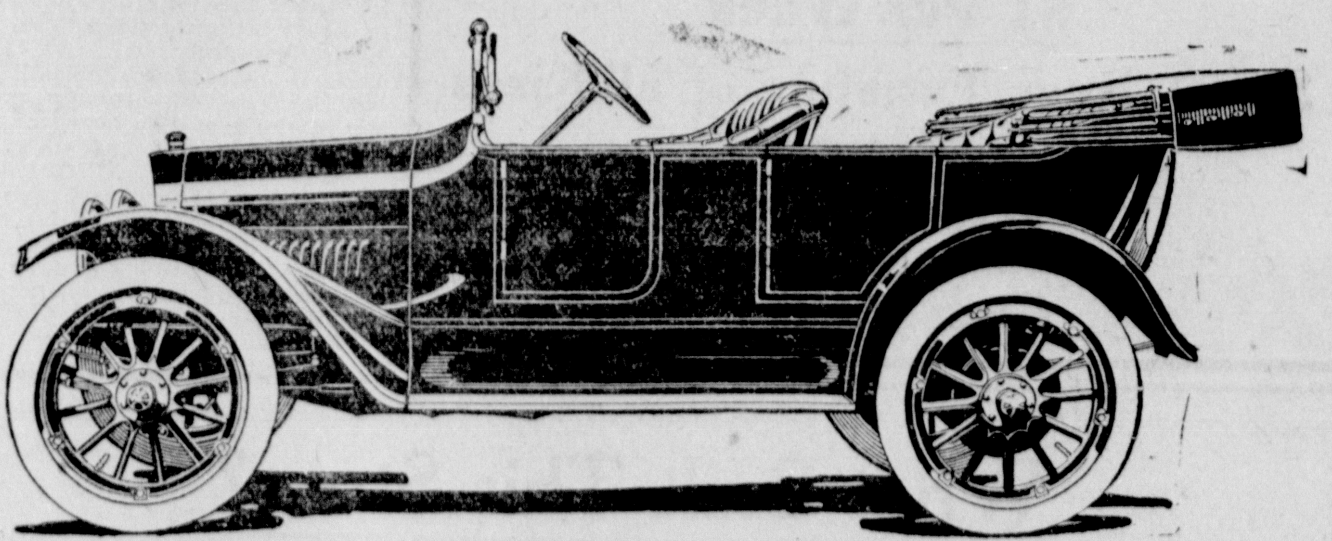

Then note how low we have brought the price. Last year's price was $1,395, with electric starter and lights. This year it is $220 less. Most of that saving comes from the fact that all our special machinery for building this car has been charged against previous output.

We are giving you here the best we know, regardless of time and cost. The more you know about motor car troubles, the more such a car will appeal to you.

I looked up the book and gave him cot No. 122 for which I charged him 10 cents. He paid his 10 cents in advance. Later in the day I went up and saw him. He was lying on the bed with his clothes on. I called him in regard to this, as it was against the rules of the house, but he just stared at me and seemed to pay no attention to me. He looked wild, awfully pale, and sick. He was here Wednesday, Tuesday, no, Thursday and Friday. He didn't do anything but lay in bed. Ate nothing whatever. I saw him about four times Wednesday and noticed no change in his condition, he still lay on the cot with his clothes on. Whenever I called him down about it he just stared at me and made no reply. The second day he was there I told him the rent was due for the cot but he had nothing to say and as he appeared to be sick I let him go, left him alone and did not put him out. I had no talk with him before he left. The witness when asked if he knew the defendant pointed out John Henry.

J. Marshall Miller for the prosecution then cross examined the witness. His replies were as follows: "My name is John P. Brown. I am married, and live about seven blocks from the Home hotel where I am employed. I am on duty at the hotel twelve hours during the day time. From 5 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock in the evening. I am employed as porter and also have charge of the register during the day. The capacity of the hotel is 136 cots in the winter time, and 40 rooms. During January the hotel was well filled both day and night. Had many permanent lodgers. No board is served at the hotel. My duties include the sweeping of the office, keeping fires going, and attending register during the day. The defendant came to the hotel between 8 or 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. He came in alone and there was no one else on duty in the office of the hotel at that time besides myself. There were two others employed in the hotel, at that time, but they were up stairs. I don't remember whether he wore a hat or cap that morning, and the office for clerks only. I do not remember seeing the defendant in the sitting room of the hotel. I know nothing of him going out to get anything to eat. I saw him in bed on Friday. He was lying on the cot awake and not asleep. He never asked me where he was or whether he was in St. Louis or not. It is not usual for a lodger to sleep with his clothes on. We usually put such a man out of the hotel. This man appeared to be sick and for this reason he was allowed to remain." (The witness then pointed out Jesse L. Henry, in answer to question as to who it was who came to see him in regard to testifying at the trial.)

Told of Visit From Jesse Henry
"No one else was at the hotel when this man came to see me in regard to testifying. He asked me if I did not remember a man coming to the hotel the latter part of January and I remembered the defendant in this case as he was an exception to the general run of our guests. We didn't often have a man who acts just as he did. Jesse Henry did not ask me in regard to his dress or height or baggage, but I recall the defendant's visit at the hotel because he was such an exception. I don't remember what Jesse Henry said in his conversation with me at the hotel. He came sometime after the trouble at Woodson, about three months ago. He stayed only 30 minutes or so and came only one time. I never have talked with anyone about Henry and have had no letter concerning this case. Jesse Henry came after me and said he wanted me for a witness. He came to my place of business, not to my home, and said he had a subpoena for me or would get one. Another gentleman took my place at the hotel for the day, no previous arrangement having been made for my departure. Business is not very good at this time. After I saw "Brown" on Friday I didn't see him again until just now, while sitting here in the witness chair. Jesse Henry paid by expenses up here. I can't explain just I knew that Brown must be the man except from conversation with Jesse Henry."

The witness had several times during the cross-examination stated that the defendant was at the Home hotel Wednesday, Tuesday and Friday, and claimed to have talked with the defendant on Tuesday. Asked by Attorney William N. Hairgrove what days the defendant was at the hotel he again said Wednesday, Tuesday and the office for clerks only. I do not remember seeing the defendant in the sitting room of the hotel. I know nothing of him going out to get anything to eat. I saw him in bed on Friday. He was lying on the cot awake and not asleep. He never asked me where he was or whether he was in St. Louis or not. It is not usual for a lodger to sleep with his clothes on. Dr. Jones Treated Henry.

Dr. R. R. Jones of Woodson was then called by the defense and said that he had lived in Woodson for eight or nine years and had known the defendant all of that time. The witness testified that John W. Henry's general reputation in the community was good.

Attorney Butler then cross-examined the witness who stated that he had been a resident of Woodson since October 1905. He had never heard the reputation of the defendant discussed. Had treated him last of November or first of January. Had given him medicine for nervousness and at that time he had complained of his arm hurting him, that it was asleep, he couldn't use it, and suffered rheumatism. The doctor didn't remember what medicine he had given Henry but thought that it was some kind of a liniment for rheumatism. The treatment which he gave the defendant was given at the doctor's office in Woodson, and he never saw him afterwards in reference to this complaint. The witness said he has been the family physician for the Henry family for some time.

Other Character Witnesses.
C. D. Irlam testified that the reputation of John Henry as a peaceful and law abiding citizen was good. On cross examination asked Mr. Irlam as to whether or not the Henry family were customers at his store.

C. C. Self was the next character witness and said that he has known the defendant all of his life and his reputation was good. On cross examination he testified that the Self and Henry families lived near together and had the most cordial relations.

Frank Lomax who lives on a farm south east of Woodson said he had known the defendant 15 years, had seen him on Chicago & Alton train Jan. 27 and sat in the same seat with him. He said that he heard John Henry talk about various things on the journey from Jacksonville to Woodson on that date and he noticed no special features about his conduct. He said that Henry helped him carry some suit cases up the train at Woodson. He also testified as to the good reputation of the defendant and said this opinion was based on his own belief and not on general discussion.

T. N. Whitlock said that he was a barber and had known the defendant for 8 years and considered his reputation as good. The witness was not cross-examined.

Told of Henry's Head Injury.
William B. Whit said that he had lived in Woodson for a good many years and that he was with Henry at the Rook sale held last December. He said that they were together looking at some hogs in a shed and that John Henry in starting to come out from the shed or in raising struck his head a very hard blow against one of the rafters of the roof. He said the force of the impact was such that the building was jarred somewhat and Henry staggered backwards. The cross examination of the witness said that no special comment was made about the matter and that he and the defendant continued to attend the sale although Henry at times rubbed his head on account of the force of the blow.

Henry's Aunt Died at Insane Hospital.

Next the prosecution began to lay the ground work to show or indicate a tendency toward hereditary insanity in the Henry family. William D. Henry, an uncle of the defendant was placed upon the stand and said he was 76 years old and had lived in Woodson 49 years or adjoining room, when I opened the door, came in immediately. I saw him several times during the night. I stayed there all night and he stayed there the entire night. His wife and daughter Lucille occupied a room with him that night. The next morning we hitched up the sled and my Uncle Will, by father, John and myself drove to the station at Woodson. There we met Sheriff Rogers and Deputy Sheriff Todd. We got on the train and came to Jacksonville. Since that time John has been confined in jail. I first saw Mr. Brown who has just testified, at the Home Hotel, 823 North Sixth street, about ten days after the trouble at Woodson. I next saw him about 7:20 o'clock this morning at the same place. I left here at the 9:45 Wabash last night, went to Springfield, and from there went down to St. Louis on the interurban. Came back on the C. & A. at 12:10. Mr. Brown came with me. I am 38 years old. Have a sister living near Modesto, Macoupin county. I remained at home until I was 22 years old. John was then living on one of father's farms about a mile and a half southeast of my home. I have been intimately associated with my brother and his family since he was married. I should say that John's general reputation in the neighborhood where he resides is exceptionally good."

In reply to cross examination by Judge Layman for the prosecution, the witness stated:

"I always lived in Woodson community up to my departure to St. Louis. I first heard of the killing of Charles Ezard at the garage back of my house about 7:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. I came at once to Woodson and stayed there until after John went to Jacksonville. John and I manage father's farm of 499 acres. I have no interest in his farm in Minnesota or the one near Chicago. We had been in business together during 1912 and 1913, two crop or grass seasons. I have three brothers and two sisters. The family of Henry's is fairly large."

Edward Bradley of Woodson was next called to the stand by the defense and testified that he has been a resident of that community and has known Henry for about 23 years. That the general reputation for peace, good order, and as a law abiding citizen of the defendant up to and prior to January 27th, was good.

In cross examination by Attorney John M. Butler for the prosecution the witness stated that he had never heard the defendant's reputation discussed except in a general way.

Father of Defendant on Stand.

The next witness was C. E. Henry, father of the defendant and he was questioned as to the relation between John B. Ferguson and the wife of the witness. He was asked by the council if Mr. Ferguson had not at various times given evidence of insanity and the witness replied that Mr. Ferguson had given such evidence on a number of occasions. On cross examination Judge Layman established from the testimony that Mr. Ferguson died 6 or 7 years ago that he was 55 or 60 years of age and that after serving some months in the army he came out of the service with his health in bad condition. Judge Layman asked if it was not true that Mr. Ferguson was somewhat simple minded. If he did not have a mind which did not develop much and was rather like that of a child even after he had grown to man's estate and Mr. Henry replied that such was the case.

Engineer Told Story.

James Donnelly was next called. He was an engineer on the C. & A. since 1882 and told the number of trains on which he is in the habit of serving. He mentioned one or more trains on which he served as engineer to or from St. Louis and said he recalled a stormy night late in last January or that time when some man he had never seen before asked him at Godfrey for the privilege of being allowed to ride in the engine cab. He said that the man then climbed into the cab and rode there until Murrayville was reached. The witness testified that he would not know the man again if he were to see him and that he paid no attention to him other than that he saw the man was in very wet clothing and allowed him to come in the cab. The state made no cross examination but made a motion to exclude all testimony on the ground that it was too indefinite and the identity of no one had been established. The motion was overruled.

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.:—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

You'll Grow Over "GETS-IT" for Corns!

It Will Startle You How "GETS-IT" Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS-IT," the new-plant, simplest, surest corn cure the world has ever seen. Corn fussing is all over. Corns, corn pains and calluses are absolutely done for, from the minute you apply "GETS-IT." Forget the bother of useless pinners, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw. Little doughnut cotton rings that press on corns, forget knives, macerators and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood, and the contraptions and harnesses that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails.

"This is No Place for a Corn. Her Corns Are All Gone. She Must Have Used 'GETS-IT'."

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Jacksonville by Armstrong's Drug Co.—J. A. Obermeyer.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

LEVINSKY AND DILLON AGAIN.

Indianapolis, May 28.—Local fight fans and the hundreds of visiting sporting enthusiasts here for Saturday's great automobile race are to be treated to a rare dish on the pugilistic menu at Federal park tomorrow night, when Battling Levinsky, the Philadelphia lightweight, and Jack Dillon of this city come together for a ten round contest. It will be the second time that these two crack lightweights have faced one another in the ring. Their first meeting took place a short time ago in Butte, Mont., and resulted in the decision going to Dillon after a hard fought bout. It was the first serious setback that Levinsky had received in his brilliant dash for the top of the pugilistic ladder. Since then the Philadelphia has been anxious to retrieve his reputation and when the match between Gus Christie and Dillon fell through because of a difference over the weight question Levinsky jumped at the chance to take Christie's place as Dillon's opponent. Dillon won the Butte decision by a very narrow margin and the bout from start to finish indicated that the two lightweights are very evenly matched. Levinsky claimed that he was handicapped by not being used to the high altitude of Butte. Under more favorable conditions he believes that he will be able to prove his superiority over the Indianapolis fighter.

U. S. WARNS AGAINST ALLEGED HOG CHOLERA CURES

Government Has Not Approved Any Treatment Except the Protective Serum.

Washington, May 28.—Evidence of what appears a well organized campaign to delude farmers throughout the country into buying an alleged cure for hog cholera, under the impression that this has been investigated and approved by the United States government, has reached the department of agriculture. Articles praising this medicine, Benetol by name, are being sent out widespread to newspapers. These articles are so worded that it appears as if the department of agriculture had received reports from the state of Minnesota showing that the medicine had proved most beneficial. As a matter of fact the one report received by the department was an unofficial and unsolicited statement sent presumably from the promoters themselves. The department attaches no importance whatsoever to this statement. It has no reason to believe in the efficiency of any proprietary cure for hog cholera and does not recommend any. Under certain conditions it urges farmers to protect their stock with anti-cholera serum, but that is all.

In connection with this attempt it may be said that the medicine, which is now put forward as good for hogs, was advertised some time ago as a means of killing tuberculosis, typhoid, and cancer germs, according to an article published in the Journal of the American Medical association. At that time it was asserted that the army was interested in it. As a matter of fact the army was no more interested than the department of agriculture is now.

In view of the evidence that the attempt to create this false impression is persistent and widespread, all hog owners are warned to communicate with the United States authorities before accepting as true any statement already mentioned.

MINNESOTA-DAKOTA

ATHLETIC MEET.

Huron, S. D., 28.—Several hundred athletes, including a number of record holders, trooped into Huron today to compete for honors in the third annual track and field meet of the Minnesota-Dakota intercollegiate conference. Owing to the large number of entries it was found necessary to make a two-day affair of the meet, the preliminaries being scheduled for today and the final events for tomorrow. Among the institutions represented by their star performers are the University of South Dakota, Carleton college, Hamline university, Dakota Wesleyan university, North Dakota Agricultural college, Gustavus Adolphus college, Yankton college, Fargo college and the University of North Dakota.

G. O. P. TO CELEBRATE.

Blomington, Ill., May 28.—Arrangements have been completed for the Republican reunion and banquet to be held here tomorrow in celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Republican party. The celebration is to commemorate the convention held here May 29, 1856, which was the first important gathering held by the Republican party in Illinois. It was at this convention that Abraham Lincoln delivered one of the first great speeches of his public career. The anniversary meeting tomorrow will be attended by many of the Republican leaders of Illinois and some from other states. The oration will be delivered by George W. Wickersham, former attorney general of the United States.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

There are thirteen announced candidates for United States senator in Kansas.

J. L. Cachel has withdrawn from the race for United States senator in North Dakota.

The Republican party is the only one to have a candidate this year for every state office in Minnesota.

Governor Colquitt of Texas intends to be a candidate for the seat of United States Senator Culbertson in 1916.

Fred W. Wheeler of Los Angeles is the prohibition nominee for United States senator from California.

The political supporters of Governor Morehead of Nebraska are trying to induce him to be a candidate for renomination.

In the six years that Kansas has had primary elections there have never been so many candidates for office as this year.

The nominations for United States senator and for governor and other state offices in Iowa will be settled in the primaries next week.

John Whitcomb, Republican nominee for governor of Oregon, is an expert agriculturist and former agricultural college professor.

In his campaign for renomination this year Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois has as his chief opponent former Senator William E. Mason.

The Socialist party in California has selected a state ticket which is headed by N. A. Richardson of San Francisco as candidate for governor.

B. W. Utman has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Wisconsin on a platform favoring a marketing commission and better marketing facilities.

Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul, and Edward N. Westerlund of Mound are the rival candidates for the Progressive party candidate for governor of Minnesota in the coming primaries.

Representative Frank E. Doremus of the second Michigan district, who is chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, will run for reelection on a platform containing an anti-woman suffrage plank.

George W. Wickersham, who was attorney general in President Taft's cabinet, is to be the principal speaker at a big meeting to be held in Bloomington, Ill., May 29, in celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Republican party.

The Socialist national committee has designated July 15 as "Wage Fund Day," when every Socialist in the country will be asked to contribute his day's wages to the party for the purpose of carrying on its congressional campaign next fall.

James Pound of Detroit, who was counsel for Col. Roosevelt in the libel suit against George E. Newell, the Ishpeming newspaper publisher, has announced his candidacy for the Progressive nomination for governor of Michigan. Mr. Pound was an unsuccessful candidate for congress two years ago.

Among those mentioned as possible candidates for the seat of United States Senator Elihu Root of New York are: William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury; William J. McCombs, national Democratic chairman; Herman A. Metz and Jefferson M. Levy, representatives in congress, and Herbert P. Bissel, justice of the state supreme court.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Assessor and Treasurer, subject to the Democratic primary, Sept. 9, 1914.

Dr. Miller a Witness.
Dr. G. W. Miller said he lived in Woodson since 1882 and for a long period served the family of John Henry. He testified as to the general reputation of the defendant as being good and there was no cross examination by the state. Mrs. Ida Megginson was next called to the stand and said she was the wife of Reuben Megginson and that the family home was on a farm east of Woodson. She said she had been a member of the ladies aid society for 6 or 7 years and was asked if she had ever seen John Henry at meetings of the society. Judge Layman entered an objection to this question on the ground that it was remote. Mr. Wilson who was examining the witness stated that certain statements had been attributed to the defendant and that he wished to show that the attitude of the defendant had toward the Ladies Aid Society or that it was contradictory to the conversation attributed to him. The objections made by the state were sustained as the court maintained that the question if answered was opening up too wide a field of inquiry and said that it would be possible for Mr. Henry to attend meetings of the society and still not have been pleased with the society's affairs. The witness was then asked if she had gone with Mr. and Mrs. Henry to meetings and the objection was overruled and sustained. Then Mr. Wilson asked the witness if she had ever seen Mr. Ezard and Mr. Henry at the meetings and the court allowed this question to stand ruling it was proper to further show the friendly relations existing with the defendant with Ezard. The witness said that at least two or three times she had seen them at meetings and they were the best of friends. Then she testified as to the good reputation of the defendant. There was no cross examination.

Mrs. Ida Whitlock was the next witness and was asked questions relative to seeing Ezard and Henry at meetings of the society and her testimony was the same as that of Mrs. Megginson. She emphasized the friendly relation between Henry and Ezard and the reputation of Henry.

James Lonergan was the last character witness and testified that he had known the defendant for 20 years and his reputation as a peaceful citizen was good.

Miss Lucille Henry on Stand.

The final witness of the session was Lucille Henry, 13 year old daughter of the defendant. There was special interest to her statement because it had been alleged that she was the daughter who had called John Henry to supper on the night of Jan. 27, last, and had at that time noticed that he did not seem to be in his usual condition. On the witness stand Miss Henry showed unusual composure and answered the questions with simple directness. She said that she had just finished the eighth grade in the Woodson school and related how, on the evening of Jan. 27, that she went into the sitting room at their home to call her father to supper and that she found him sitting by the stove in that room. She said that when she called her father he gave her no reply and that she noticed at the time that he was very white and that his eyes were shiny and that he stared in an unusual way.

On cross examination by Judge Layman the witness went into further details as to the family supper and as to her going in to call her father to supper and as to his appearance and conduct at that time. There was some clash of counsel, the attorneys for the defense maintaining that the questions asked by Judge Layman were too broad in character. The court however, ruled that the prosecution might ask the witness any questions relating to the conduct or appearance of her father during the time he was in the house about the supper hour. The court ruled, however, that the inquiry must not extend to any alleged acts other than for the period indicated. To one of the questions by Judge Layman the witness referring to usual things that her father did she said that he went to the bed room to get his gun. This was promptly stricken out. The witness said that she did not know just how long her father sat by the stove in the living room but he remained there during the supper hour. She said that he was seated in a rocking chair and that afterwards he went from the sitting room into the kitchen and moved about from one room to the other. Asked as to what he looked like when in the kitchen or was there anything unusual in his appearance the witness said that when in the kitchen he was very pale and his eyes were white and starey and larger than usual. She said however, that she did not notice anything unusual in his walking or other movements and that the matter of his color or expression of eye were the only indications that were not normal in character.

At this point the court adjourned until 9 o'clock Friday morning. After the judge had given special instruction to the jurors to guard against conversation with others or themselves relative to the case.

Attended the Trial.

Among persons who sat with Mrs. Ezard and Mr. and Mrs. Bush at the trial yesterday were Bert Crain of Roodhouse. He is a brother of the late Everett Crain.

With other relatives who sat near John Henry were Mrs. W. T. Henry, Mrs. Jesse Henry, Mrs. Jeptha Henry, Mrs. John Henry, Sr., Mrs. Samuel Henry, Mrs. J. E. Wright, Lawrence Henry, Howard Henry and Elmer Green.

PRESBYTERIANS DEBATE ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Our Correspondent at the General Assembly.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian church is now meeting in Chicago in great gathering of grand Presbyterian body. There are about 600 commissioners, lay and clerical, in attendance from all parts of this country, with many home and foreign missionaries. The women's boards of organization are in session. To the women has been committed, to a large degree, the home missionary educational work of the church, among the freedmen, the Indians, the mountain people of the south and the Mormons; generally summarized as the exceptional populations. For those wishing to get exact information as to the meaning of the deliberations and acts of the assembly it is not well to trust to the reports of the various metropolitan papers, as they are apt to exploit points in a sensational way. Through the religious press one must go to get the most reliable and accurate conception for what is being done.

To begin with, the assembly usually is in session for about ten days. The organization of the Presbyterian church consists in its membership, or communicants and attendants or contributors, governed first by the sessions, of the pastor and elders; the Presbytery made up of all the ministers, laymen being elected by the sessions, and the ministers attending by virtue of their office; then comes the synod, which, as a rule is the judicatory of the church in a whole state, with some added duties, the Presbytery being composed from the churches in districts of the several states about as large as the ordinary congressional district. Then, last, or highest of all, the grand governing body is the general assembly. The sessions can meet at any time required, the Presbytery has a spring and fall meeting, the synod meets annually in the fall, and the assembly meets yearly, in May. There are about 1,250,000 members, and 10,000 ministers. The money collected for various purposes, annually, is about $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. This year the assembly is meeting in the new Fourth Presbyterian church, which is on the North Side of Chicago. This edifice, recently dedicated is a grand structure, the building and the land having cost about $750,000. This being the finest Protestant church building in west if not in country. The auditorium is churchly in style, and only used for devotional purposes; the other meetings, religious and social, being in the adjoining house addition. But the auditorium is not well adapted to the purposes of a deliberative gathering. It being difficult to see and hear in a room capable of seating, without crowding, about 1,000 persons. It would pay any one passing in the Sabbath in Chicago to visit this great Protestant cathedral.

In its exercises of Monday and Tuesday the following program was followed as nearly as might be:

Monday, May 25.—8:45 a. m., organ recital; 9:00 a. m., devotional services; 9:30 a. m., Assembly called to order; 10 a. m., report of standing committee on ministerial relief; 2:30 p. m., report of standing committee on education; 5:30 p. m., (Auditorium hotel). Brotherhood dinner; 8:00 p. m., (Orchestra hall). Popular meeting, work among colored people.

Tuesday, May 26.—8:45, organ recital; 9:00 a. m., devotional services; 9:30 a. m., Assembly called to order; 10 a. m., Report standing committee on freedmen; 2:30 p. m., report standing committee on colleges; 4:00 p. m., report standing committee on temperance; 8:00 p. m., (Orchestra hall). Popular meeting for home missions.

Among those down for attendance were President Rammekamp, president of Illinois college, whose picture appeared in last week's Continent, and Mr. Robert R. Stevenson, a lay commissioner from Springfield Presbytery. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are stopping at Hotel Sherman.

Today your correspondent met the Rev. Dr. C. M. Brown of Joliet, and Mrs. R. O. Stoops of that city. It may be remarked here that Prof. Stoops has been re-elected superintendent of the Joliet schools, with a comfortable addition to his salary. Rev. Dr. Thos. W. Smith of New York city is also here.

As the assembly began its work last week, it will hardly get through before Friday or Saturday of this week. Any one who could do so would do well to come up to it.

CHARMING CONCEIT
FOR THE YOUNG GIRL'S
AFTERNOON WEAR.

Attractive dresses to don in the afternoon when milady joins the group on the veranda at the summer hotel or goes out to attend some informal function are now in demand. The model pictured here is fashioned of soft satin, but it might be duplicated in crepe or any soft summer fabric of that sort. INTEREST IN MARITIME RIFLE MATCHES.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 28.—There is much speculation among riflemen throughout Lower Canada as to the outcome of the Inter-Maritime rifle match to be held here next month. This is the blue ribbon match of the maritime provinces, in which the best marksmen of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island compete for honors. The teams of composed of eight men each from the different provinces, the ranges being 200, 300 and 700 yards, seven rounds at each. Since 1886 Nova Scotia has scored thirteen victories, New Brunswick eight and Prince Edward Island seven.

REMEMBER TO BRING FLOWERS SATURDAY.

Be Sure That the Graves of the Old Soldiers Are Suitably Decorated.

Attention is again called to the request by members of the Grand Army and Women's Relief Corps for flowers tomorrow morning for decorating the graves of the old soldiers. It is earnestly requested that gifts be brought by eight if possible in the morning to G. A. R. hall, north side of West Morgan street a little east of the Y. M. C. A. building.

It should hardly be necessary to repeat this request yet we are all forgetful and it is all important that the noble men who gave their lives for the salvation of the country should be suitably remembered.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The express came to Jacksonville in 1855 and it came to stay. For 59 years it has been the right-hand of commercial Jacksonville.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many more years in the future Express Service will mean

BUGGIES AND HARNESS

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE

Between finding a buggy at your price and finding one that suits you at your price. If it is merely a question of spending a certain amount of money and not caring what you get, it doesn't make much difference where you buy. But if you are after a carriage that has style, comfort and service, and one that is guaranteed to give satisfaction, we have no hesitation in saying that we can take better care of you than any one here or elsewhere. Our stock includes all the popular modern styles in both high grade and medium work. The variety makes choosing easy; the prices make paying easier. If you intend buying a vehicle this year, why not drop in and talk it over.

CARDINALS GIVEN RED HATS.

Rome, May 28.—The concluding and most impressive ceremony connected with the creation of the new cardinals occurred today at the great public consistory at the vatican, when the thirteen new princes of the church, including Cardinal Begin of Canada, were invested with the red biretta and zucchetto, indicating their rank. The elaborate ceremonies were witnessed by hundreds of persons who were fortunate enough to obtain tickets, while thousands of others who could not obtain admission to the vatican thronged the streets in the vicinity to witness the passing of the cardinals, the great clerical nobles, the ambassadors and other guests. The principal ceremonies of the day took place in the Hall of Beatification, an immense chamber, which had been specially prepared for the occasion. The arrival of the papal procession marked the opening of the ceremonies. When all of the prominent participants had taken the places assigned them the new cardinals approached the papal throne and one by one knelt before Pius X., kissing his hand and foot and receiving the papal embrace. An imposing mass and an eloquent sermon formed parts of the program. The bestowal of the red hat, the ring and other insignia of their rank upon the new cardinals was carried out with all the formalities which the custom of centuries has prescribed for the occasion. When all of the ceremonies were concluded the new cardinals proceeded to the Sistine chapel to return thanks for the honor accorded them.

WHAT IS OLD AGE?

Some Younger at 65 Than Others Are at 40 Years.

Old age is not marked by years, but by the stiffened frame, the hardened tissues and arteries.

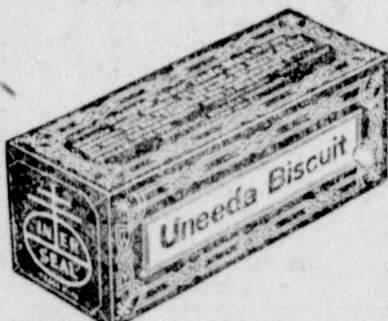

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they begin to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail, build yourself up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood-maker and strength ener.

H. C. Klyce of Corinth, Miss., says: "I am 75 years old and my blood was very poor. I was in a run-down condition and felt that I must have a tonic. Vinol was recommended and it built up my strength until I felt as strong and well as ever."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails, we return your money. Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

GLEE CLUB IS HEARD BY LARGE CROWDS AT SCOTT'S AIRDOME

Excellent Programs Are Given, Both in Singing and Pictures, to Delight of Audience.

The Illinois College Glee Club closed a three nights engagement at Scott's airdome Thursday night, when they sang to a large and responsive audience. An excellent program of pictures was also given and the program proved a most entertaining one.

On each of the three nights engagement the club had a different special feature. The first was a dramatic reading, Silence, a Fable, by Poe; the second, a soprano solo by Miss Rebecca Sheibel, with Mrs. Wilson, her instructor, as accompanist and last night, Thomas Magner gave an Irish dialect reading, "A Love of God Shave." This number was so well liked by the audience that an encore was demanded. The members of the glee club showed the result of studious preparation in their solo, quartet and chorus work, and as practically all of the fifteen members, with the exception of the accompanist, Durrell Hatfield, will be back next year, they should make one of the best glee clubs in this part of the state. The concert Thursday night ended the season for the Glee club, which has had four out of town engagements and three in this city.

An amusing incident occurred during Thursday night's performance when William Kirby was singing his solo. "Bob", the club's mascot, came out on the stage and sat looking up at the singer until he had finished, which brought forth a round of applause from the audience.

About the toughest looking respectable auto outfit the writer has yet seen was at Priest's garage yesterday evening when Charles F. Retting and J. L. Kruger, his friend, guided by a colored chauffeur, pulled in and to a Journal reporter gave an account of themselves. Mr. Retting is president of the Retting Furniture Co. of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and spends his winters in Pasadena, California, and his summers in Grand Rapids. Three weeks ago they set out from Pasadena in a Ford car which had already been driven 20,000 miles and they have so far averaged a little over a hundred miles a day, encountering all manner of roads, some deep sand, some mud and some stone. So far they have had no accident.

A gentleman residing in the northwest part of the county says in his vicinity a good many miles of road have been graded up in the middle with a road scraper or grader and threshing machine engine. They have left a track on each side and a lot of loose dirt, clods and turf in the middle, but this he says they expect to roll into good shape as soon as it rains.

Painting.

By WALT MASON.

Now the husband paints the fence, while the housewife paints her face, and, with energy intense, we are painting, every place. We enjoy this useful toil, which will make the town more fair, and we smell of linseed oil, and there's ochre in our hair. Paint would beautify the spheres and we have no useless sighs, if there's putty in our ears and some varnish in our eyes. Wherever brush is laid, an improvement then is seen, and no odds about the shade—like, lavender or green. You will say, "I am surprised, that you preach paint evermore; you have sure been subsidized by some paint and varnish store." But I haven't had a yen from the dealers in red lead, since I started urging men to embellish house and shed. Some men tell you how to vote, others tell you how to pray, but I'm wearing out my throat shrieking, "Paint Up!" all the day. It's because I hope to make this old world a brighter place that I urge you till I break both suspenders and a trace. Blow yourself for linseed oil, blow yourself for lead and zinc, or your residence will spoil; paint it blue, with stripes of pink.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. Frank Elliott and Mrs. William D. Sanders entertained at a house and garden party Thursday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Elliott, 1101 West State street. Mrs. Frank Rumsey Elliott and Mrs. William Sanders Elliott, of Chicago, and Mrs. James Weir Elliott of this city were the guests of honor. The house was decorated in pink and white, the garden was resplendent with a wealth of blossoms and all the appointments were most excellently made. Music was furnished by the orchestra from the School for the Blind, stationed upon the front porch among palms and greenery.

The receiving party stood in the parlor before a bank of white Killarney roses, near which a large bouquet of iris offered a pleasing variation from the prevailing pink and white. Lighted candles illuminated the dining table where the refreshments were served. The punch bowl was situated in the garden, not far from a bed of peonies, brilliantly red. Bright with pinks and Spanish iris, poppies and wood anemones, the guests in various hues, trees and shrubbery in curved lines of verdure, all made the garden a scene of entrancing beauty.

Mrs. William Sanders Elliott expected to return later in the evening for her home in Chicago. Today, Frank Rumsey Elliott will arrive from Chicago for a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott of West State street.
